LEARN MORE

The new www.georgethall.com is officially live! We are proud of our new website and we hope you see it as a resource for information relating to industrial, thermal process and automation technology. In addition to information on our products and services, our new site also highlights key vendor partners as well as our industry certifications and capabilities in key industries. Feel free to contact us through the new site or click on the icon in the lower left corner to live chat - we look forward to hearing from you!

Our Expertise

GTH specializes in finding simple solutions to complex problems. Over our 87 years in business, we have evolved into a specialized System Integration firm with capabilities ranging from industrial system modernization and automation to UL control panels, and industrial services. Our technical personnel are experienced and trained to work with hardware and software from the industry's leading manufacturers including Honeywell, Schneider Electric, Wonderware, Phoenix Contact, and Watlow. Whether you are looking to design a new system or retrofit an existing process, we can help!
